

Faith in Krishna

Once on the bank of a river there lived a very famous & leaned panditji. Villagers would come to him to seek guidance & blessings.

Excellent! Your
explanation of vedanta sutra
is perfect. You are the greatest & most learned.

Thank you.

On the other side of the river there lived a milkmaid called Laxmi.
Laxmi delivered milk daily to panditji

Everyday she would rise early and bath & milk the cows.

She would then feed her sick father.

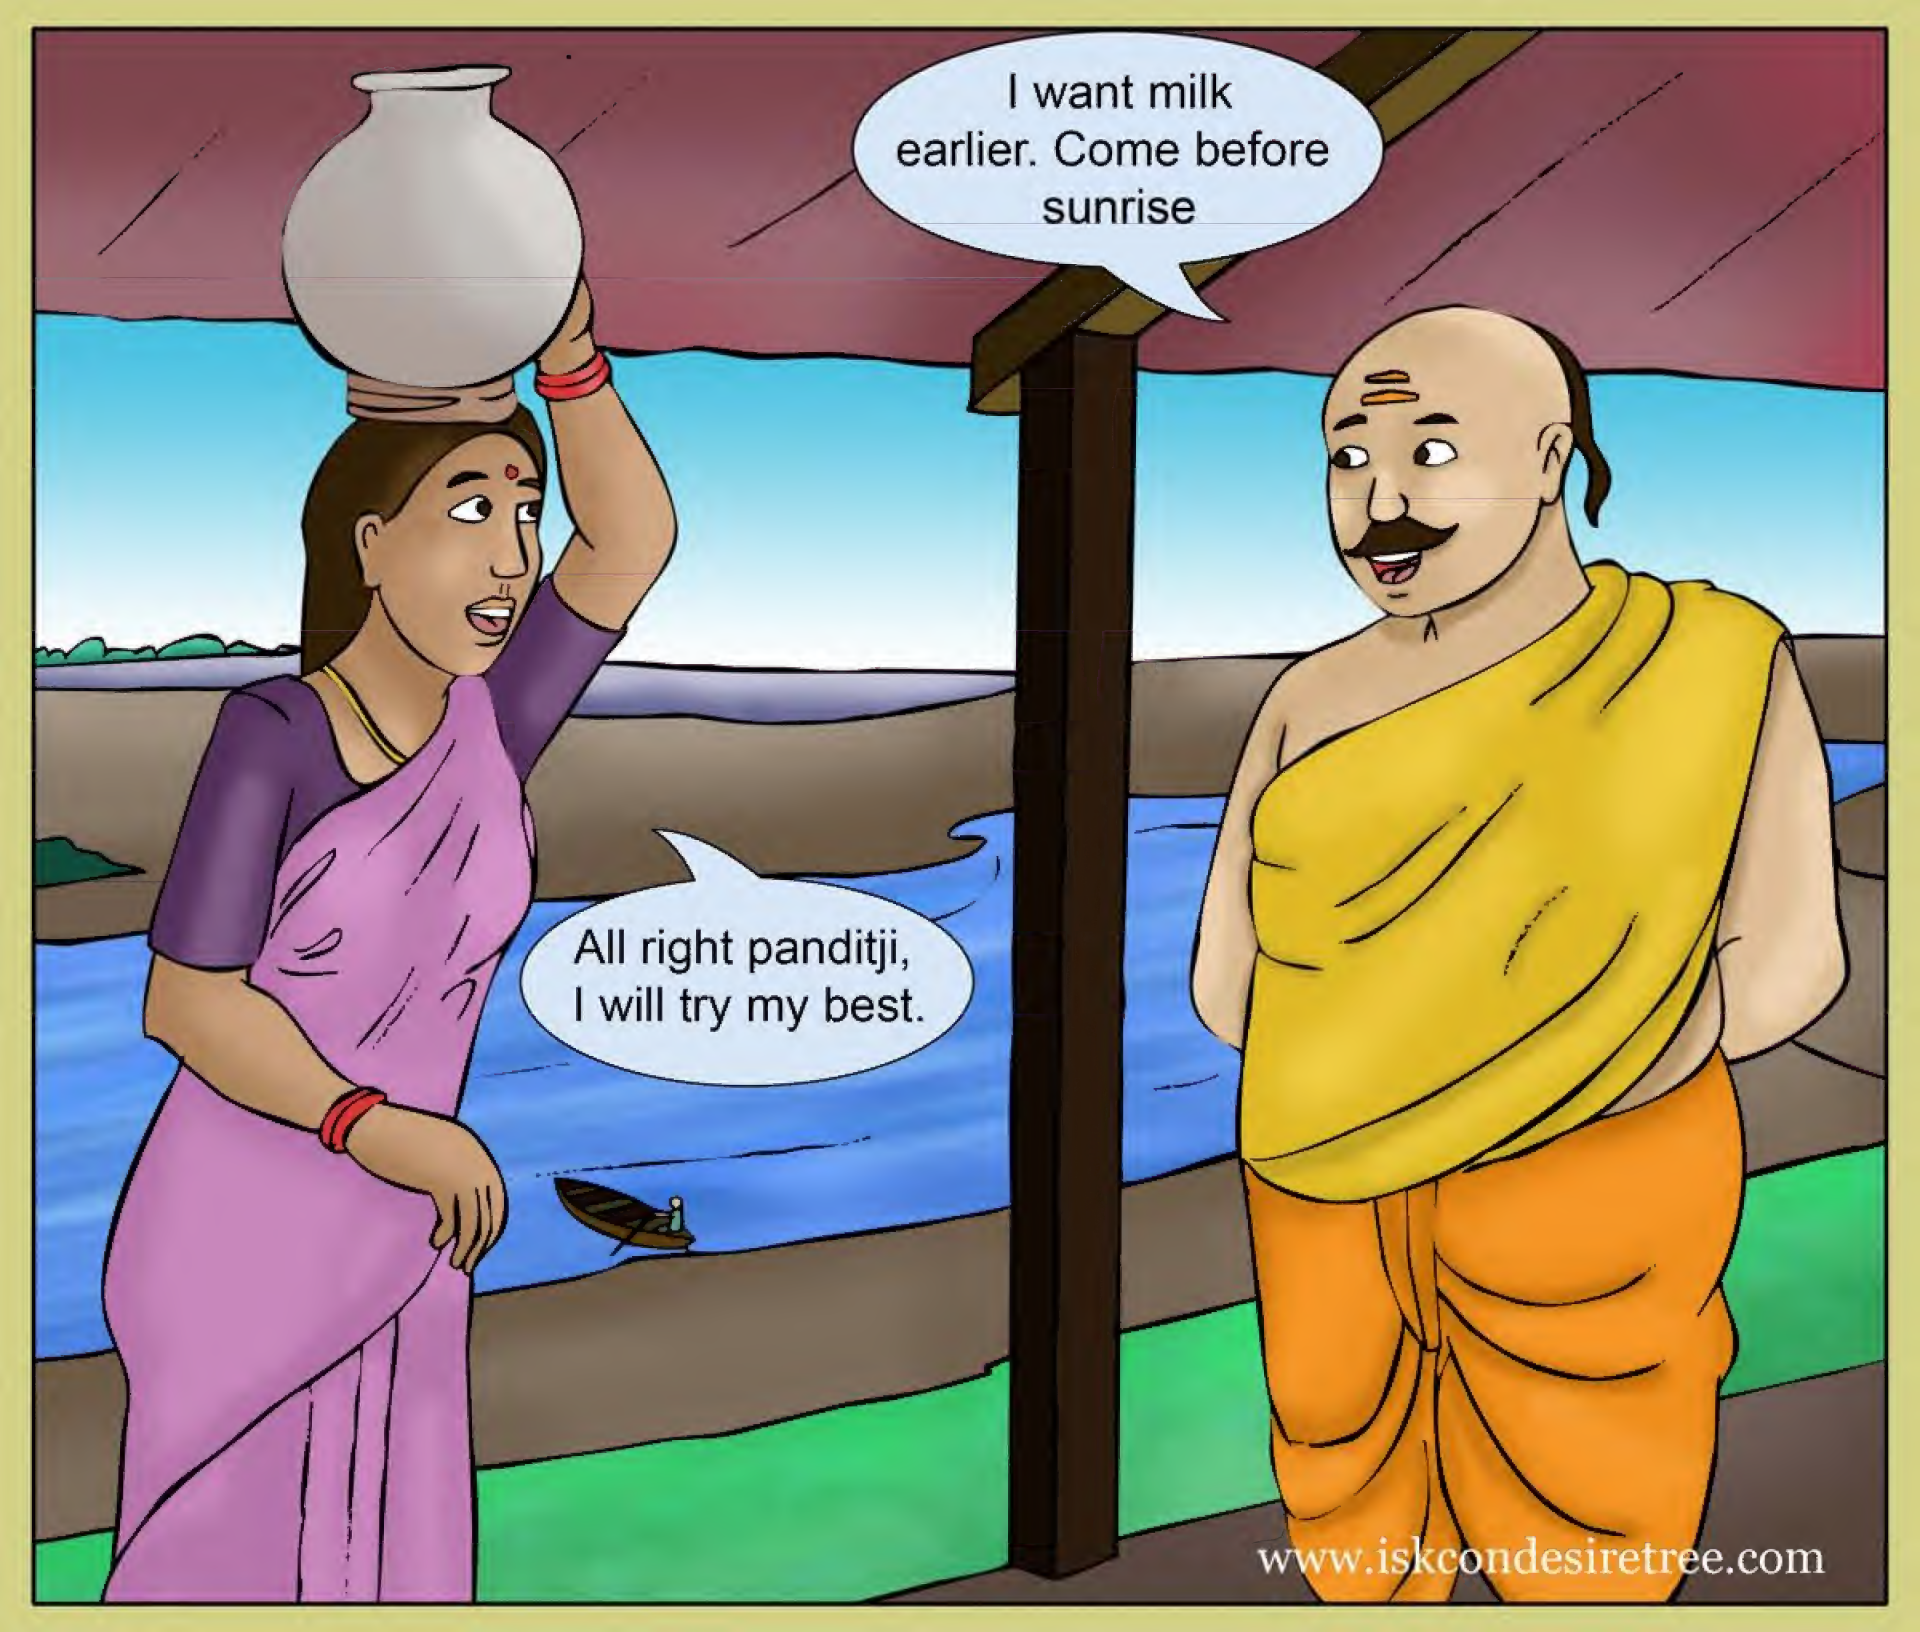

Then she would set out in the boat to supply milk to panditji.

Namaste Panditji.

Oh Laxmi!
At last you have come.
I am waiting for
the milk.

I want milk
earlier. Come before
sunrise

All right panditji,
I will try my best.

The next morning she got up early to finish her work. She came to the river bank before sunrise but the boat man had still not come.

Oh the sun has started to rise. Panditji
will get angry

Finally the boatman came.

Please hurry.
I was suppose to
take milk to panditji
before sunrise.

Laxmi you have come late. Sun has already risen. Why were you late?

Sir, I came before
sunrise to the river bank
but the boatman
was late.

Don't give me silly
excuses. Don't you know who I am? I am the greatest scholar. Better you try getting up early.

Please forgive
me panditji.

Panditji kept chastising...

People cross the ocean
of life simply by chanting the names
of Krishna and you can't even manage a small river?

Laxmi took the advice very seriously.

Please forgive me.
Tomorrow I shall come
before sunrise

Panditji, today
I have come early.

Oh yes! You have reached before sunrise.
I don't see the boat?
How did you come?

The way you told
me panditji

The way I told you!
Which way?

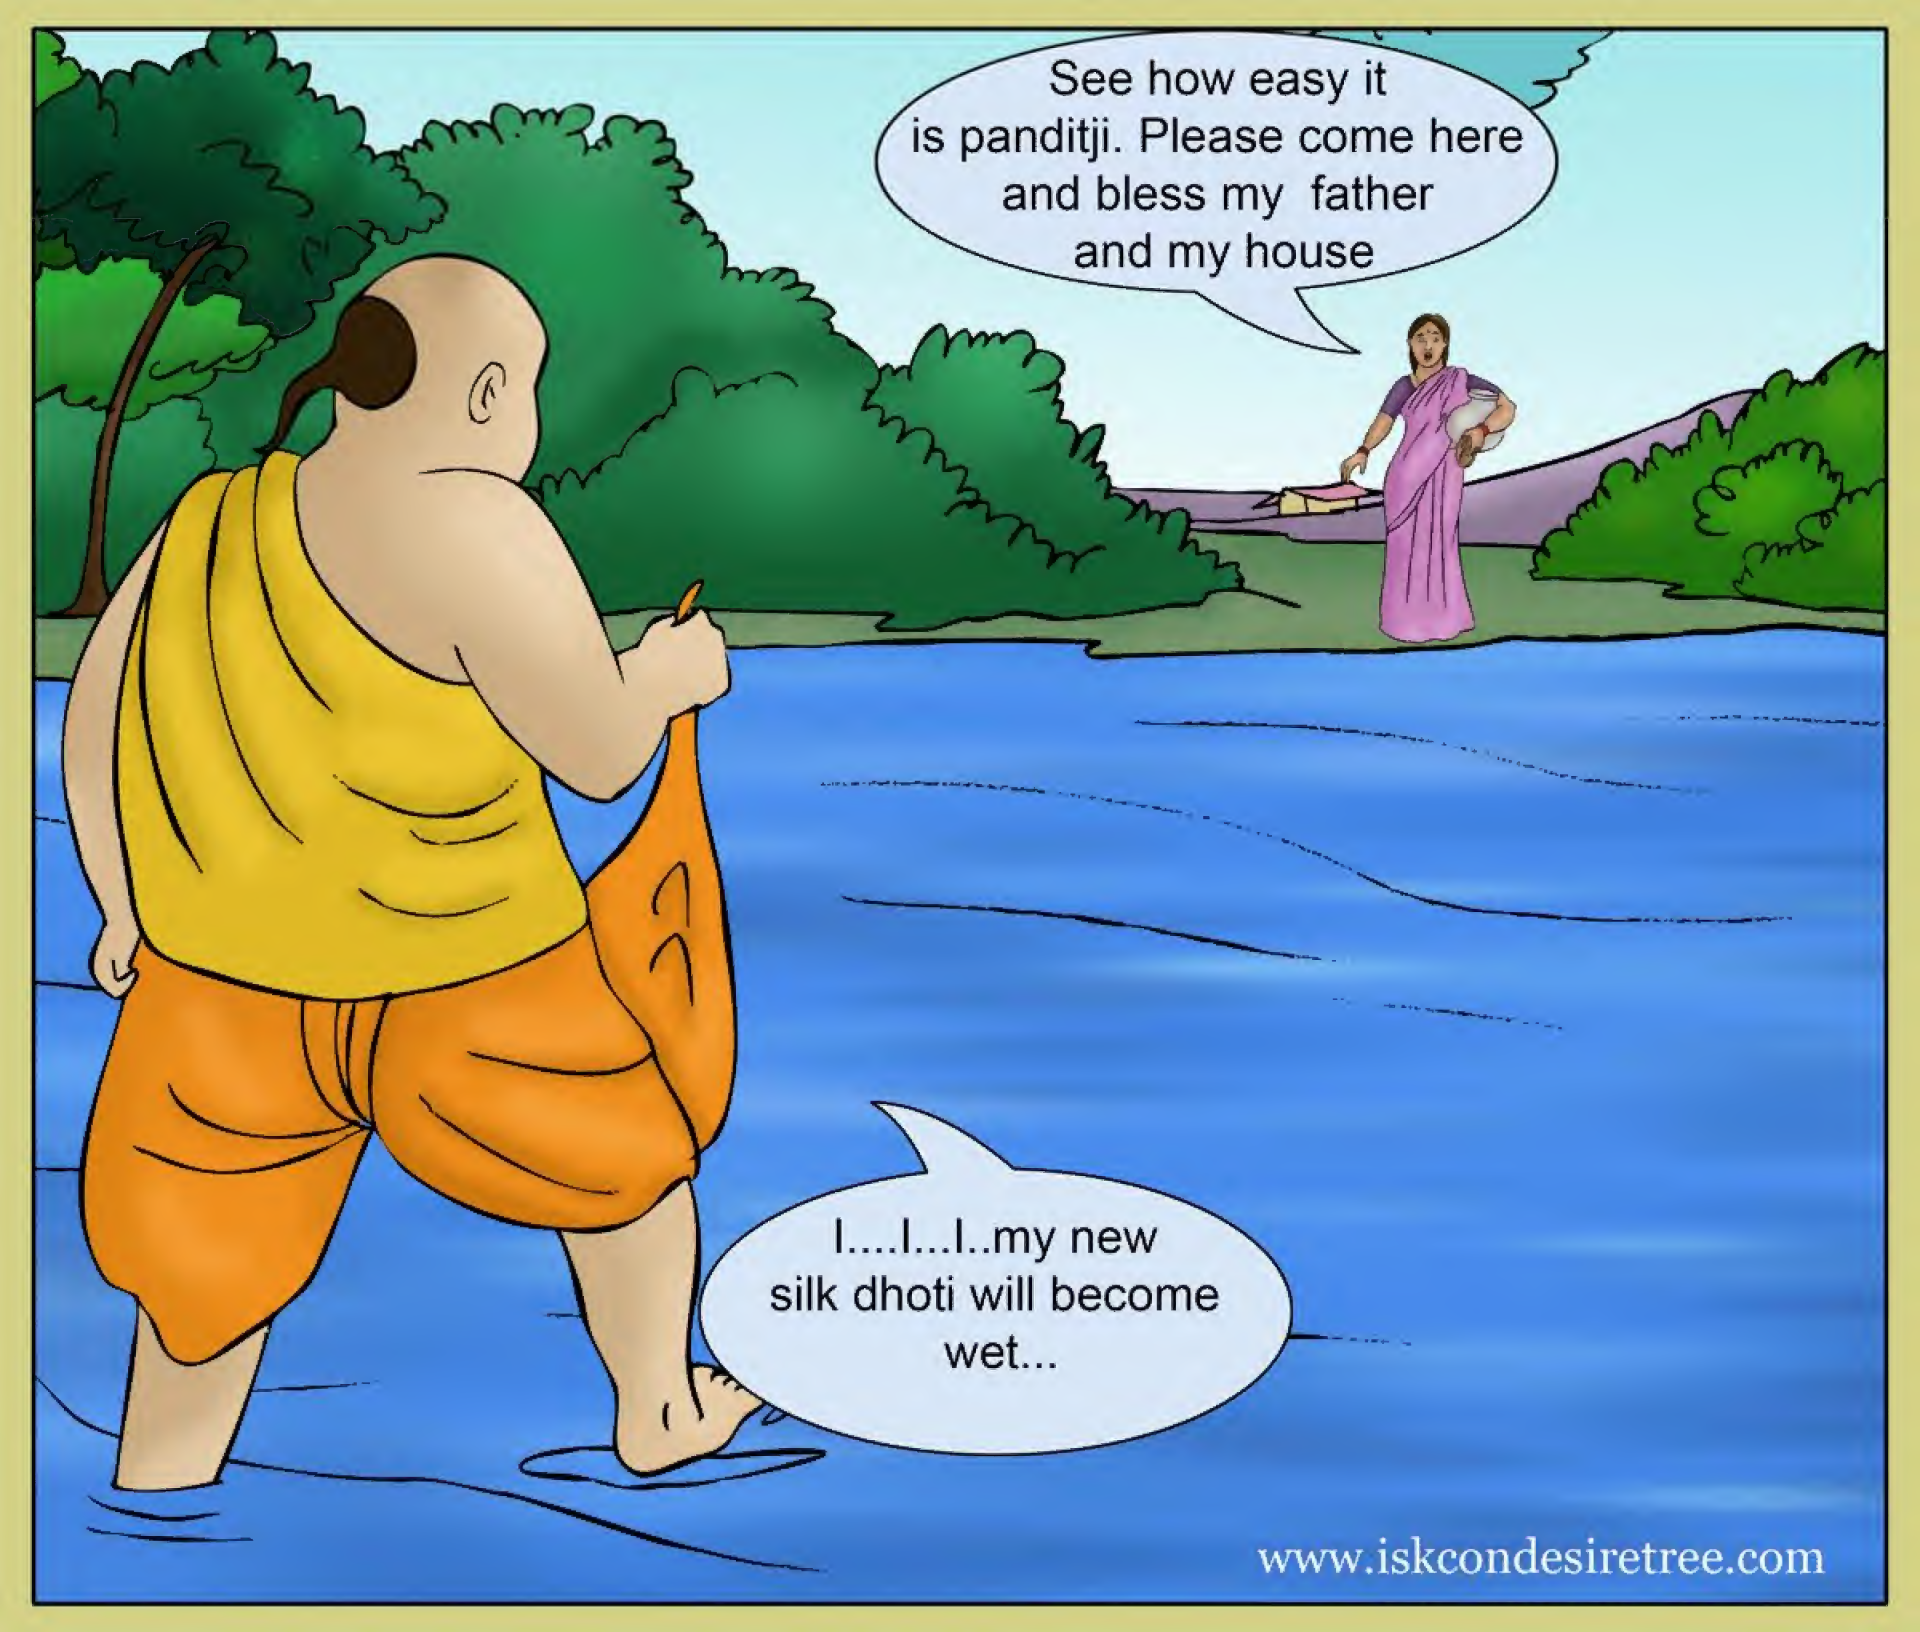

You told me that simply
by chanting the names of Krishna
one can cross over the ocean.
So I simply followed your instructions
and simply walked over
the small river.

How is it possible
to walk over water? Will you show me?

She soon started chanting and walk over the river back to the opposite bank

See how easy it is panditji. Please come here
and bless my father
and my house

I....I...I...my new silk dhoti will become wet...

But panditji was not able to walk on water. He immediately fell in water and got wet.

Panditji you are not thinking of Krishna. You are thinking of your costly silk dhoti and hence you are unable to cross over the river.

Oh Laxmi! I was so proud of my learning. Now I know that pure and simple faith like yours is what that really counts. God bless you Moral: Faith in Lord can help one overcome impossible situations.
